

Jaap meant a lot to many people.

His sharp versatile mind with playful traits made him an excellent scientist.

The lack of competitive zeal and his true interest in people made Jaap a good friend, inspirer and leader. Someone who changed your life.

Always interested in the world around him, in the beautiful things like music, art, literature, nature and a culinary experience with a good glass of wine.

For Jaap all this was normal.

Your reactions to his death confirm how special he was.

That gives support. Thank you.
